Our morning contemporary of yesterday, in an article headed "Rather Costly," expresses some would-be wise ideas on the rate of taxation established by the Board of Supervisors. It finds fault because the rate fixed for the "Redemption Fund," provided for the payment of the Court House bonds, is only three cents on the $100, claiming that a higher rate of taxation should be levied against the people, so as to reduce the principal as well as provide for payment of the interest. These Court House bonds are payable in fifteen years, and it is but proper and just that the smallest quota of payment possible should be made by present property holders, for strong reasons. Owing to the great expense incurred in the establishment of Cochise county, and the regulation of the chaos existing in all new governmental organizations, the people of the present have had to bear an unusual burden of taxation. The county necessarily became in debt. It is only just that it should be left to future property holders to bear their share of the debt, as has evidently been the intention of the Board in making the levy. Present owners of property have acquired their possessions under adverse circumstances, and by hard struggle. Those resident of Tombstone have suffered heavy losses, in the devouring afflictions of two conflagrations, and yet, according to our contemporary, the rate of taxation should be heavier. The assertion, in the article alluded to, that the levy for the County General Fund is too high, is equally fallacious and unjust, and the assumption that the amount derived from that levy will be absorbed in expenses of the county is absurd. It is the duty of the Board to provide for the current expenses of the year, and, as much as justice to present property holders will allow, towards liquidating the indebtedness of the county. The levy will bring into the General Fund nearly $59,000, taking the calculation of the Independent to be true, which will cover expenses of county government, and leave a surplus against existing indebtedness. A decrease of the county's debt will necessarily increase the value of county warrants, thereby adding to their purchasable value and so lessening expenses. We believe the tax levy, in the fact that it has made the burden as light as possible upon present property holders, is just and equitable. If the people will elect competent men, to constitute the next Board of Supervisors, the early future financial condition of Cochise county will allow a minimum tax levy.

The mining reports of the EPITAPH are winning very favorable comments from those interested in mines. Every endeavor is made to obtain full and reliable reports, and no expense spared. We are trying to win substantial and permanent support by dealing only with facts and catering to no morbid or speculative desires.

The Chairman of the Republican Central Committee, alias the Village Blacksmith, says that if he had had more time in the preparation of "his address he would have written "human beings" b-e-i-n-s, instead of b-e-a-n-s. Of such is created Republican County Treasurers.

GOVERNOR TRITLE says that the cow-boy difficulties are all ended. There must be a beginning before there can be any end. The difficulties alluded to were the creation of the Presidential proclamation romance, composed by Tritle.

Every Democrat should labor to have a full registration. Remember that an honest county administration depends upon the success of the Democratic party.

Let there be a full attendance at the meeting of the Democratic clubs. The first meeting will be most important, as it will elect the officers.

Our morning contemporary is fast verging on Republicanism. Good enough.

An article written for the San Francisco Bulletin, of the 10th instant, advances an opinion that Fort Huachuca will be headquarters of the Department of Arizona. Certainly there is no more fitting place.

The main difficulty hitherto lying in the way of successful campaigns against hostile Indians has been the distance from the seat of war of military headquarters. The department commander, being unfamiliar with localities covered by raids of Apaches, has been unable to direct operations with either judgment or celerity. Fort Huachuca lies almost directly on the route invariably traveled by hostiles, in seeking an asylum in Sonora, Mexico, and its close proximity to the line would enable the troops to intercept all marauders and hold them until whipped into subjection or exterminated. In the past the paucity in number, of the troops stationed in this section of the Territory, has enabled the Indians to raid over the country without fear of being checked, and, consequently, settlers have felt an almost entire absence of security, in life and property. As a result of this existing security, the redemption of the best grazing and other resources of southern Arizona, has lain dormant for years. An immense amount of idle capital is only awaiting a settlement of the Indian question to invest in these resources. Department headquarters at Prescott is hardly as serviceable as it would be if located in San Francisco, being entirely isolated from the scene of any possible Indian outbreak. It has for years been kept there, simply owing to the fact that the general government, has felt it necessary to utilize the buildings, erected at so great an expense, in the interest of economy. It has been a false economy, for had the hostile Indians been kept in subjection, the redemption of resources that are now idle, would have yielded to the treasury the cost of a dozen Whipple Barracks, a thousand times over. The appropriation recently made by Congress, for the erection of an eight company post, at Huachuca, will secure more than the necessary buildings, for the housing of headquarters officials, and will assure the latter a comfort that would be deemed, by the average frontier citizen, a positive luxury. It is believed that Gen. Crook, out of his large experience in the treatment of hostile Indians, will at once see the necessity for being constantly on the "battle ground," and there is no point more available than Fort Huachuca as a basis of military operations. The site of the new post cannot be excelled as regards beauty of situation and advantages of location. The climate is healthy, and free from extremes of either heat or cold. An inexhaustible supply of wood and water is in the immediate neighborhood, and the railroad but six miles away. The fort has telegraphic communication with all the military posts, and the whole available force of troops, in the department, could be thrown into the field at a moment's notice. All things taken into consideration, there is no place so well adapted as Fort Huachuca for military headquarters.

When the San Carlos Indians are killed off, by the organization existing for that purpose, there will be peace in Arizona and a wonderful increase of prosperity. Vast tracts of the finest grazing country in the world cannot be utilized now owing to the constant fear of an outbreak of reservation Indians. Immediately in the neighborhood of Tombstone immense herds of cattle, bands of horses and droves of sheep, could be given pasture if only the Apache scourge could be put an end to. Secretary Teller's promises to disarm the Indians seemingly were only made to be broken, and the people of Arizona, apparently, have no resource but to improvise a remedy of their own. We know nothing of the existence of any organization, in the premises, but accept the statement of the Tucson Star that there is one.

YUMA county, according to the census, has a population of 3,922 and Mohave county, 1,910. The former must attend closely to registration, in order to elect the joint councilman.

THERE will be spent in the construction of the new post at Huachuca, $90,000. A great deal of this money will come to Tombstone.

BRACH, of the Prescott Miner, is proxy for six or seven of the delegates to the Republican convention. Fare thee well, Gosper!

The action of the mob of Christian county, Illinois, in its treatment of Montgomery, Pettis and Clement was a disgrace to civilization.

The village blacksmith is pleasantly swimming in a river of notoriety. He will soon be wallowing in a slough of despond.

Uncertain Speculation.
HALIFAX, August 16.—The recent purchase of the schooner Conquest, about twenty years old, by General Butler, of Boston, has caused much comment and surmise. The vessel sailed yesterday, ostensibly for a port in Madagascar, with stores sufficient for thirty or forty men for nine months. There embarked on the Conquest only two boys, besides the captain and mate, who sailed in her from this port; but the departure of twenty seafaring men to the eastward by land conveyance within a few days leads to the impression that the vessel is not going to sea light-handed.

Appointment of Clerks.
WASHINGTON, August 17.—Secretary Lincoln to-day appointed two hundred clerks and a number of messengers and watchmen for service in connection with the pension cases, provided for in the Legislative, Executive and Judicial apportionment bill. He has already taken vigorous steps to prevent outrages, and is thoroughly in earnest.

The petition speaks of George as a native born American journalist, author and gentleman of irreproachable character, and urges that his second arrest be promptly inquired into by the United States authorities. In submitting the petition, Captain Mullan explains that he assumes the responsibility of calling the attention of Secretary Frelinghuysen to the matter in consequence of the absence from the city of the entire California Congressional delegation.

ALBANY, N. Y., August 17.—The Journal contains a long article to-day, in which the names of Gov. Cornell, Jay Gould and Conkling figures. Attempt to Wreck a Train.
PITTSBURGH, August 18.—A most dastardly and coldblooded attempt to wreck a train was made last night at the first trestle this side of Allequippi station, on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad. At Allequippi yesterday there was a picnic which was attended by some thousand of men, women and children. On the return train, going at a rapid rate, just before entering the first trestle, the engineer discovered a large beam lying across the track, and the discovery was made just in time to enable him to stop the train. Had his attention been attracted in another direction the train would have been thrown to the ground below, a distance of forty feet, there would have been a terrible loss of life. Who put the obstruction on the track or the motive is, of course, unknown.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—Surgeon-general Hamilton last evening received the following telegram from Brownsville, Texas. Three new cases of fever. Three deaths from fever.

The British to remain in their present position and not participate in the operations. The Turks shall be allowed to use Alexandria as a base of operations, and Turks and British both to withdraw after the pacification of the country. Dufferin rejected this draft and submitted another stipulating that Turkey should not undertake operations without the previous consent of the British commander; that British officers should be attached to Turkish headquarters, and the question of evacuation should be the subject of a special convention. It is believed there is no probability of the Porte accepting the conditions.

There are a number of persons out of employment in every county, yet energetic men willing to work do not need to be. Those willing to work can make from $100 to $500 a month clear, working for us in pleasant and permanent business. The amount our agents make varies, some making as high as $200 a month, while others as low as $100, all depending on the energy of the agent. We have an article of great merit. It should be sold to every house-owner, and pays over 100 per cent profit. Each sale is from $250 to $10. One agent in Pennsylvania sold $2 in two days and cleared $150. An agent in New York made $450 in one day. Agents with energy enough to work a full day and will do this during the year can make from $2,000 to $5,000 a year. We only want one man in each county, and to him we give exclusive sale as long as he continues to work faithfully for us. There is no competition, and no line like our invention made. Parties having from $50 to $100 to invest can obtain a General Agency for ten counties or a State. Any one can make an investment of from $25 to $100 without the least risk of loss, as our circulars will show that those investing $25 can, after a 30 days' trial, return the goods unsold to us and get their money back. If they do not clear at least $100. They show us the names of agents who will take ten counties and invest $25 each and we will, in 60 days, return all goods unsold to us, and have money returned to them if they fail to clear at least $750 in that time. We are not paying salaries, but want men willing to work and obtain as they pay the profits of their energy. Men not willing to work on our plan will not receive any. Those meeting business men will receive our large descriptive circular and extraordinary offer by enclosing a three cent stamp with their address. The first to comply with our terms will secure the county or counties they may wish to work.
